

The Conflict of the Ages

Lelia Naylor Morris, 1912

$\text{♩} = 108$

1. Lo, the con - flict of the ag - es is up - on us to - day, And the
2. Catch the vi - sion of a lost world go - ing down - ward in sin, While the
3. See the Church of God a - wak - ing and with glo - ri - ous zest She is ar - mies are as - sem - bling all in bat - tle ar - ray; Are you Mas - ter's great com - mis - sion long un - heed - ed has been; See the lay - ing on her al - tars now her no - blest and blest; T'ward the num - bered with the faith - ful, one of God's loy - al few, Who have child - ren of the king - dom joined in heart and in hand, Press - ing fi - nal con - sum - ma - tion we are hast - en - ing on, And the sworn Him full al - le - giance? can He count up - on you? for - ward in the strug - gle to re - deem this fair land. Have your time for loy - al ser - vice will for - ev - er be done.

Refrain

eyes caught the vi - sion? Have your hearts felt the thrill? To the call of the Mas-ter do you an - swer, "I will"? For the con-flict of the ag-es, told by pro-phets and by sag-es, In its fu-ry is up - on us, is up - on us to-

- day.

