

Green Pastures

Eden Reeder Latta, 1886

Alonzo Judson Abbey

$\text{♩} = 90$

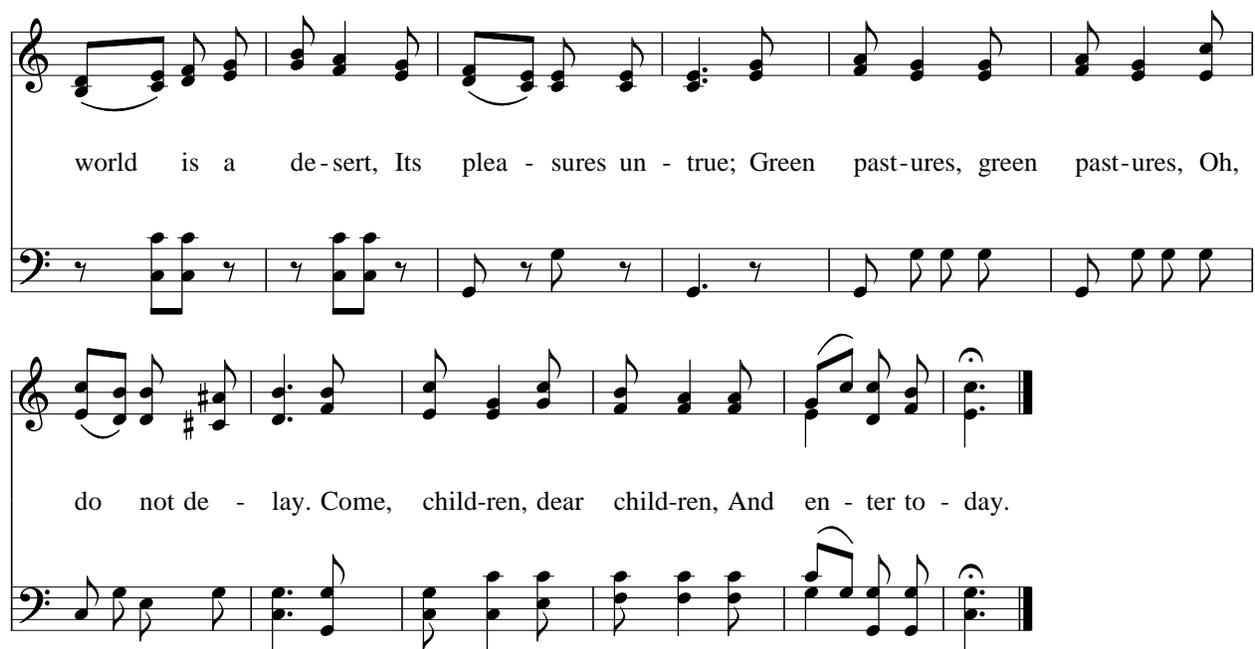

1. Green past - ures for the lambs, The ten - der of the flock: No
 2. Green pas - ures for the lambs, So in - no - cent and sweet, No 3. Green past - ures for the lambs, The lit - tle child - ren all; For pois - onous plant is there, And there no bar - ren rock. There, no dis - cord - ant foes to do them harm, No pit - falls for their feet, Be - side the wa - ters whom the Sav - ior died, To save them from the fall; There les - sons, good and notes Can fall up - on the ear; And words of peace and love The tim - id still, Con - tent - ed they may stray; No chill - ing frost by night, No burn - ing wise, On ev - ery page are found, To fit the youth - ful soul, To dwell on heart will cheer. heat by day. Green past-ures, green past-ures, Dear child - ren for you, The heav'n - ly ground.

Refrain

world is a de-sert, Its plea - sures un - true; Green past-ures, green past-ures, Oh, do not de - lay. Come, child-ren, dear child-ren, And en - ter to - day.