

An Infant Lay Within a Shed

Heinrich von Laufenberg (1390-1460)

15th Century, harm. by G. R. Woodward ca. 1919

$\text{♩} = 108$

1. An In - fant lay with - in a shed, Where ox and ass were
 2. With voic - es sweet in awe to Him There sung a choir of
 3. The herds, when they there - of heard say, A - non with glad - ness
 4. A bright star at the self - same tide Was by the three good
 5. Be - fore yon Babe, of high de - gree, They kneel and pray on
 6. Then Her - od King, in mood un - mild, As - sayed to slay the
 7. When thir - ty years were full - y past This In - fant, He was
 8. But, on the third day, no - thing else, He rose a - gain, as tied and fed; Hard by there stood a maid - en mild; 'Twas Ma - ry, mo - ther ser - a - phim, "Praise, wor - ship, glo - ry," loud they cry, "To God whose king - dom went their way To Beth - lem; when they found Him there, That no - ble Child, full kings es - pied: A - far from east - ern land they fare; A good - ly pre - sent bend - ed knee, Pre - sent - ing gifts with rev - er - ence, Of gold, and myrrh, and roy - al Child; Fell many a babe at his com - mand, But Christ was safe in crossed at last, Was dead, and bur - ied tomb with - in, That man e - ter - nal Gos - pel tells: As - cend - ed to His Fa - ther - land, There sit - teth He at

Refrain

to the Child.
 fills the sky."
 fain they were.
 each doth bear. My God, my Lord, Je - sus, 'Twas He was cradled thus.
 frank - in - cense.
 E - gypt - land.
 life might win.
 God's right hand.