1 The head that once was crowned with thorns is crowned with glory now; a royal diadem his, is his by right, the King of kings and dem a-dorns the mighty victor's brow.
2 The highest place that heaven affords is joy of all below, to whom he manifests his love and grants his name to know.
3 The joy of all who dwell above, the all its grace, is given; their name, an eternal light.
4 To them the cross with all its shame, with lasting name, their joy, the joy of heaven.
