Are You Listening?

William S. Marshall, 1876

1. Do you hear the Savior calling, By the wooings of His voice? Do you hear the accents falling? Will you make the precious choice? tones! Are you listening? Are you listening? Now, to hear the accents fall? Are you listening? Are you listening? To the Savior’s gentle call?

2. By the word of truth He’s speaking, To the wandering, erring ones; List! the voice the stillness breaking! Hear the sweet and solemn

3. In His providential dealings, Even in His stern deeds, In the loudest thunders pealing, Or the murm’ring of the breeze.
