Go Ye Into All the World

James McGranahan, 1886

1. Far, far away, in heathen darkness dwelling, Millions of souls forever may be lost; Who, who will go, salvation's story telling, rise and enter in! Christians, awake! your forces all uniting, echo in His name; Jesus has died to save from death appalling, triumphantly shall sing. Ransomed, redeemed, rejoicing in salvation, looking to Jesus, heed ing not the cost?

2. See o'er the world wide open doors inviting, Soldiers of Christ, arise and enter in! Christians, awake! your forces all uniting, echo in His name; Jesus has died to save from death appalling, triumphantly shall sing. Ransomed, redeemed, rejoicing in salvation, looking to Jesus, heed ing not the cost?

3. "Why will you die?" the voice of God is calling. "Why will you die?" reply, life and salvation, therefore go proclaim. "All power is given unto Me, All power is giv en unto Me, Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel, And lo, I am with you always."

4. God speed the day, when those of every nation "Glory to God!" triumphantly shall sing. Ransomed, redeemed, rejoicing in salvation, looking to Jesus, heed ing not the cost?

Refrain
