

A Little Child Is Born Tonight

A. H. Brown

Voices in Unison

1. A lit - tle Child is born to - night, And
2. A lit - tle Child is born to - night, And
3. A lit - tle Child is born to - night, To

He shall lead His own, To end - less day, to glo - ry bright, To lands of ev - er - shep - herds haste to see Their God and King in in - fant form, And wor - ship with their hearts for long years lone, To An - na, wi - dow, Si - meon, sage Their Star of child - hood,

Refrain

- last - ing light, And to our Fa - ther's throne. A lit - tle Child is born to - night, And true hearts warm, The Christ on bend - ed knee. A lit - tle Child is born to - night, And joy of age, For ev - er - more their own. A lit - tle Child is born to - night, O in the star - ry sky, To Him the an - gels car - ols bring: "Good will and peace to wise men from a - far Fol - low a - fresh that wond - rous light, That glow - eth in the come ye, one and all, And hail in faith, and hope, and love, The Child Who left his men," they sing, "Glo - ry to God on high, Glo - ry to God on high."

 heav'n - ly height, The Sav - ior's morn - ing star, The Sav - ior's morn - ing star.
 throne a - bove, To lie in yon - der stall, To lie in yon - der stall.