No Night There

John Ralston Clements, 1899

Hart Pease Danks

1. In the land of fade-less day, Lies “the city four-square,” It shall ne'er pass away, And there is “no night there.”

2. All the gates of pearl are made, In “the city four-square,” All the streets with gold are laid, And there is “no night there.”

3. All the gates shall nev-er close, To “the city four-square,” There life’s crystal river flows, And there is “no night there.”

4. There they need no sun-shine bright, In “that city four-square,” For the years, For there is “no night there.”

Refrain

Tears” There’s no death, no pain, nor fears; And they count not time by years, For there is “no night there.”

Lamb is all the light, And there is “no night there.”

God shall “wipe away all

ne’er pass away, And there is “no night there.”

streets with gold are laid, And there is “no night there.”

crystal river flows, And there is “no night there.”

There’s no death, no pain, nor fears; And they count not time by

years, For there is “no night there.”
