

No One Loves You So

Alfred Barratt, 1919

Henry P. Morton

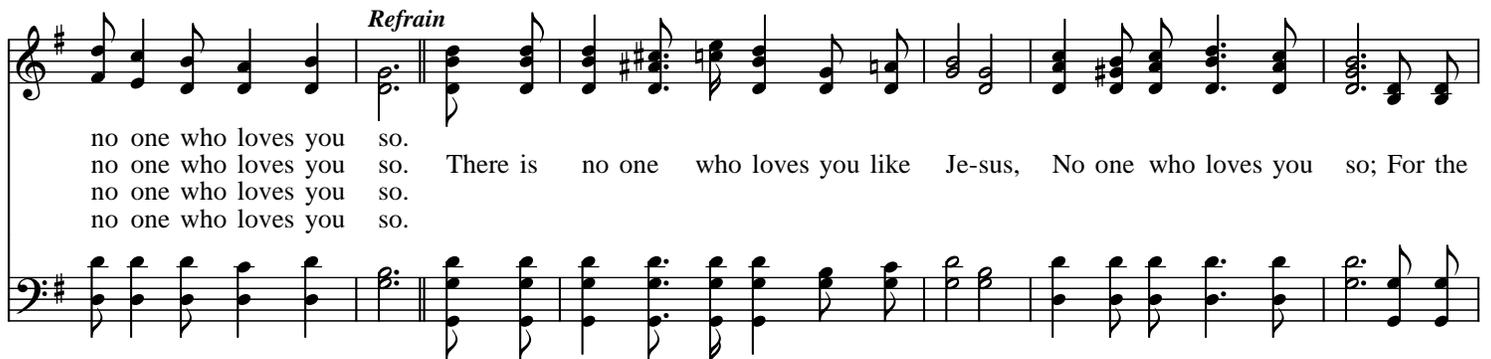

♩ = 100

1. Are the bur - dens you car - ry too hea - vy to bear? Does the weight of your sin fill your
2. Do you think in your sor - row you suf - fer a - lone? All your grief and your sad - ness to
3. He a - lone can re - deem you from dark-ness and woe; He will wash all your sins till they're
4. Cast your cares on the Sav - ior each mo - ment, each day, He will guide you and keep you each heart with des - pair? Go to Je - sus for aid, He will an - swer your prayer; There is Him are made known; He hath ne - ver for - sak - en or turned from His own; There is white as the snow, And His won - der - ful grace you may con - stant - ly know; There is step of the way; He will drive all your fears and your sor - rows a - way; There is no one who loves you so.

Refrain

no one who loves you so. There is no one who loves you like Je - sus, No one who loves you so; For the
no one who loves you so.
no one who loves you so.

cross you lay down He will give you a crown; There is no one who loves you so.