

Which Side Are You On?

Thompson H. Jones, 1906

♩ = 97

1. I see the ar - mies gath-'ring for the fray, Their hosts are be - ing mar-shaled once a -
2. You can-not be a care-less look - er on, You can - not neu - tral be in this long
3. Choose ye be - tween the e - vil and the good, Be - tween the path of hon-or and of
4. Gird on thine ar - mor for the cause of right, Which strives for pu - ri - ty, and love and

- gain; The noise of pre - par - a - tion all the day, Is strife; You must es - pouse the cause of right or wrong, You shame; Be - tween the hands which min - gle tears and blood, And home; And know that God with His e - ter - nal might Will ring - ing thro' the vale and o'er the plain.

Refrain

must your in - fluence give to death or life. Which side are you on in this those which lift the fall - en in His name.
give thee strength the foe to o - ver - come.

fight, sol-dier? Which side now shall claim your gal - lant deeds? Do you march with the King 'neath the ban-ner of the right Or fol-low where the prince of dark-ness leads?