Rejoice, rejoice, believer,
And let thy joy and glory ever be
In Him, the great Deliverer,
Who gave Himself a sacrifice for thee.

Rejoice in thy Redeemer,
Thou hast a place that nothing can remove;
He bids thee dwell in safety,
And rest beneath the shadow of His love.

Rejoice, rejoice, believer,
A home on high is waiting now for thee;
And there, in all His beauty,
The King of saints with wonder thou shalt see.

Rejoice, rejoice, believer,
Of Him who lives forever,
Thy great high priest and king.

Rejoice in thy Redeemer,
Thou hast a place that nothing can remove;
He bids thee dwell in safety,
And rest beneath the shadow of His love.

Rejoice, rejoice, believer,
Press on to join the happy, happy throng;
Where soon thy Lord shall call thee
To realms of joy and everlasting song.

Rejoice, rejoice, believer,
