2. No fleet - ing years, or mis - spent hours, No soon, or late, or
3. No ghosts of past or fu - ture there, In all that light kissed
4. No sick beds, cem - e - ter - ies there, No hearts with grief o'er - 5. Time's dark - ly flow - ing ri - ver now Is ban - ished from on moon; As dawn and sun - set merge to shine In bright, un - end - ing speed; No yes - ter - day, to - mor - row, nor A ty - rant clock to land; But end - less joy and peace a - bound, Blessed by the great I

- come; No tomb - stones march - ing row by row To death's low sound - ing high; Be - fore us year - less streams of life: We have no time to noon.
