

Will You Let Them Die?

Sylvia Lee, 1913

Glenn Copeland

♩=95

1. In the distant lands of darkness bowing down to wood and stone, Millions 2. There's no ray of light to cheer them, not a vision of the Lord, Or the
 3. All around you souls are sinking, heedless of the living way, Can you 4. With true gratitude to Jesus for His mercies and His grace, Ever have not heard of Christ who reigns on high; For the glo - ries that await beyond the skies; Ere they spurn them, or the words of life deny? Tell them seek His blessed name to glorify; Spend not lost of every nation He has suffered to atone, In their shall be - night - ed perish, send the life sus - tain - ing Word, With - out of the lov - ing Sav - ior who would wel - come them to - day, In their life in idle dream - ing, strive to save the fall - en race, Speed sal - sin, oh! Christ - ians! will you let them die?

 Christ, their Sav - ior, will you let them die? Will you let them die guilt and weak - ness, will you let them die? in dark - ness
 - va - tion's mess - age— do not let them die!

with-out hope of life? Will you let them die, lost in sin and strife? While you fu-ture life? in dark-ness share God's grace and love, And cher - ish hopes of joy a - bove, Will you let them die, Oh! will you let them die? in dark-ness die?