Let Me Be a Friend to Man

Sam Walter Foss, 1898 & “M”  Walter Stillman Martin, 1905

Let me live in a house by the side of the road, Where the race of men go by, The men who are good, and the men who are bad, Just as good and as bad as I; I tell him of Christ who has love of his life, Left His throne on the cross to die; If he feels in his heart he would like to be good, I’ll show him how he can; Let me live in a house by the turn not a way from their smiles nor tears, Both parts of an infinite plan; Let me live in a house by the side of the road, And be a friend to man.

Refrain

side of the road, And be a friend to man.
side of the road, And be a friend to man. For Je-sus Him-self lived up - on the road Where men were pass-ing a-

- long; And His great ten-der heart, and His migh-ty arm Were rea-dy to bless the throng.
