

There Is No One Like the Savior

Johnson Oatman, Jr., 1896, alt.

John Robson Sweney

$\text{♩} = 100$

1. Who can wash a sin - ner's guilt a - way? There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
2. When we're low - ly bent with grief and care, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
3. When we're tem - pest tossed up - on life's deep, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
4. When we feel the i - cy touch of death, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
5. In that bless - ed home where rests the soul, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -

- lu - jah! Who can turn his dark - ness in - to day? There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
- lu - jah! He speaks, and the sun - beams lin - ger there, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
- lu - jah! He speaks, and the wild waves hush to sleep, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
- lu - jah! He will take us at our clos - ing breath, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
- lu - jah! This shall be our song while ag - es roll, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -

Refrain

- lu - jah!
- lu - jah!
- lu - jah! O glo - ry, glo - ry, hal - le - lu - jah! There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le -
- lu - jah!
- lu - jah!

- lu - jah! While we live or die, in the earth or sky, There is no one like the Sav - ior, hal - le - lu - jah.