

The Judgment Day

James David Vaughan, 1904, alt.

James David Vaughan

$\text{♩} = 85$

1. The ter - ri - ble day of judg - ment is com - ing, Its dawn - ing is draw - ing
2. The good will be placed on the right of the Sav - ior, The bad on the left, a -
3. O have you e'er thought of the last sep - a - ra - tion, When Je - sus the Judge will
4. Then par - ents who've lived for this world and its glo - ry Will find its's too late to near; The trump - et's loud call will say to all na - tions, "Be - fore the dread bar ap -

- way; Each one will re - ceive re - ward for his la - bor, O where will you stand that say: "Depart to the re - gions of dark - ness e - ter - nal"; Are you rea - dy to meet that pray: They have carr - ied their own dear child - ren to tor - ment, O think of that aw - ful

Refrain

- pear."
day? O that ter - ri - ble, ter - ri - ble day, O that ter - ri - ble, ter - ri - ble day, It's day?
day! great day,

com - ing to me, it's com - ing to you, That day is com - ing to all.
soon com - ing to all.