

Come to the Manger

G. W. Young, Esq., 1868, alt.

John Thomas Grape

♩=110

1. 'Tis the sea - son of Christ - mas— a - way to the man - ger, The
2. Oh, come to the man - ger— the an - gel is wing - ing Thro' the
3. Oh, come to the man - ger— the shep - herds, o - bey - ing The 4. Oh, come to the man - ger— the star is yet shin - ing, Un-

Refrain

place of all o - thers where Chris - tians should prove The zeal of dis - air, while his tid - ings are sound - ing a - broad; A le - gion of her - ald of glo - ry, are there e - ven now; Their fer - vent pe -
- dimmed by a cloud, un - e - clipped by the morn; Like cur - tains of

- ci - ples to wel - come the Stran - ger Who comes on His mis - sion of hea - ven - ly cho - ris - ters sing - ing, Good will to the na - tions, and
- ti - tions of gra - ti - tude pay - ing, And plead - ing their feal - ty and sil - ver, its ra - diance in - clin - ing, To shel - ter the couch where the mer - cy and love. And what tho' His roof and re - cep - tion be glo - ry to God! Hast thou not a word for that won - der - ful mak - ing their vow. Hast thou no al - le - giance to of - fer be - Sav - ior was born. It shines to in - vite, to as - sure, to di - low - ly, Where on - ly the poor and the hum - ble re - pair; 'Tis the meet - ing? No song in that an - them of glo - ry to share? A -

Girls

 - fore Him? No vows of af - fec - tion, no pe - ni - tent prayer? A -
 - rect thee, 'Tis an o - men of mer - cy— no lon - ger for - bear; The birth - place of Christ, conse - crat - ed and ho - ly, 'Tis the tem - ple of

 - wake from thy slumbers, to join in their greet - ing, And come to the
 - wake from thy slumbers, pre - pare to a - dore Him, And come to the shep - herds, the magi, the an - gels ex - pect thee, Come, come to the God - head, for Je - sus is there!

 man - ger— for Je - sus is there!
 man - ger— for Je - sus is there!
 man - ger— for Je - sus is there!