

Sowing for the Harvest

George Washington Sederquist, 1898

George Washington Sederquist

♩=110

1. We are sow-ing the seed of the word of life, We are sow-ing each
2. We are sow-ing the seed in a world of pain, We are sow-ing in
3. We are sow-ing each day, in our word and deed, We are sow-ing the 4. We are sow-ing in tears, we shall reap ere long; When the Mas-ter shall 5. If we sow to the Spir-it, our life is sure; If we la-bor in day in a world of strife; We are sow-ing with care in the morn-ing faith, we shall reap a - gain; We are sow-ing with hope, from the field to truth with an ear - nest heed; With a di - li - gent hand we de - light to come, with the an - gel throng; Then we'll rest from our sor - rows, our toils and faith, to the end en - dure; Tho' with weep-ing we sow, yet with joy we'll

Refrain

♩=85

bright; We are sow-ing till late, in the shades of night.
win Some poor soul, in the har - vest to ga - ther in. sow, In the morn-ing and eve, where the wheat may grow. What we care, In the man - sions of light, when He burns the tares. come, When we bring in our sheaves, to the har - vest home.

sow in the sun-shine, or sow in the rain; What we scat-ter a - broad we shall

rit. a tempo

ga - ther a - gain! O, that will the har - vest be, that will the har - vest be, O, that will the har-vest, har - vest be.